THE PONT DU GARD, A MARVEL OF ANTIQUITY

A natural and cultural site unique in the world

The Pont du Gard is the most majestic part of an aqueduct built by the Romans 2,000 years ago. This masterpiece of impressive architecture, listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1985, provided the inhabitants of the city of Nîmes with running water for five centuries.

Set in breathtaking natural surroundings, this stone colossus is the tallest ancient bridge in the world.

Immerse yourself in Roman history by visiting the museum, cinema and Ludo area, and enjoy a guided tour to the top of the aqueduct. A truly emotional experience that will make your stay in the South of France unforgettable.
